

Don't gamble on your future

As a student you will invest time, money and energy in getting your degree...

...can you afford to waste it?

The University of Ulster welcomes new and returning students to this academic year. As you are about to discover, university life is full of challenges and excitement.

Good conduct on the part of all members of the University community is essential for the wellbeing and safety of others and for the maintenance of an environment in which students and staff can work and study effectively.

The University of Ulster values its good reputation, therefore any misconduct by students which discredits the University on or off-campus is taken very seriously. All complaints are fully investigated in accordance with University Ordinance XLIII (Student Discipline Procedure). Where appropriate, disciplinary action will be initiated against students found to be in breach of this Ordinance.

Did you know...

The University of Ulster Student Charter states '...that you will not behave in an anti-social manner, on or off-campus and that you will behave in a responsible manner in respect of the accommodation you occupy, relations with co-habitants, neighbours and the local community. Anti-social behaviour may result in disciplinary action.'

Maintaining good relationships with our neighbours is in the interests of everyone. It is important that we are considerate of other people's lifestyles and property. Criminal acts or behaviour which disturbs local residents or causes criminal damage, will not be tolerated.

Spend your time wisely
– invest in your future!
